- B. You should select San Francisco, as it provides the highest expected monetary value
- C. You should use multi-objective programming algorithms to determine which location to select
- D. You should select New York, as it provides the highest expected monetary value
- E. You should select Seattle, as it provides the highest expected monetary value

Answer: E

NEW QUESTION: 4

You have a wireless printer that is connected to your Windows XP laptop via infrared, and it prints properly. However, when you relocate the wireless infrared printer, you find that your laptop is not able to send print jobs to the printer. What is the most likely cause of the issue?

- A. The printer driver is not updated on the laptop.
- B. The printer driver is uninstalled from the laptop.
- C. The printing option is disabled in the Control Panel on the laptop.
- D. Printer is located at the distance of more than three feet from the laptop.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The most likely cause of this issue is that the printer is now located at the distance of more than three feet from the laptop. If the printer is located at a distance more than 3 feet, this will create problem in communicating with the laptop. Infrared is a communication medium used for wireless networks to transfer data between devices. Infrared can transmit signals at high rates because of the high bandwidth of infrared light. An infrared network can normally broadcast at 10 Mbps. Answer option A is incorrect. According to the question, the printer was printing properly. It indicates that the driver is installed properly. Answer option D is incorrect. There is no such option in the control panel for disabling printer. Answer option B is incorrect. There is no need of updating the printer driver because the printer was working properly.
